Project Manager
Cell Culture Company

Would you like to experience the benefits of Lean manufacturing? For many, the first step in creating a culture of continuous improvement and developing an army of problem solvers is to help all employees identify opportunities for improvement. Participants gain knowledge and the tools required in order to help a critical mass of employees learn how to define value and identify and eliminate waste. After completing the workshop, participants will have experienced the difference between traditional and Lean manufacturing and its components.

Tools and Topics Learned Include:

- Kanban
- Takt Time
- Visual Controls
- Kaizen Events
- Teamwork
- Value Stream Mapping
- Cellular Manufacturing
- Work Standardization
